The term “unemancipated person under the age of 18” is used in Nevada mental health crisis law to refer to youth and children in which the law applies. The term “youth” will be used in this document instead.

The Purpose of This Document

The purpose of this document is to provide information for families whose youth are experiencing mental health crisis that may lead to temporary hospitalization. A mental health crisis hold is a legal process in Nevada law that allows certain professionals to protect a youth experiencing a mental health crisis so they don't hurt themselves or others. The purpose of the hold is to provide emergency care, which may include evaluation, observation, transportation, and treatment.

This document includes education, resources, and an explanation of mental health crisis holds (also known as legal holds). This document does not promote the use of holds, rather, this information is intended to empower parents to make informed decisions about their youth's mental health needs.

The Difference Between Voluntary and Involuntary Hospitalization

Voluntary Hospitalization:

If a youth is hospitalized voluntarily, parents or legal guardians may request discharge against medical advice.

Involuntary Hospitalization:

Under involuntary hospitalization a youth may be held under a mental health crisis hold for up to 72 hours.

Youth Mental Health Crisis Hold Overview

A mental health crisis hold is a legal process in Nevada Law that allows certain professionals, law enforcement, or healthcare professionals to protect a youth experiencing a mental health crisis so they don't hurt themselves or others. The purpose of the hold is to provide emergency care, which may include evaluation, observation, transportation, and treatment.

What Is a Mental Health Crisis Hold?

A youth mental health crisis hold may be placed on a youth with mental health needs, who is considered a danger to themselves or others.

- Marriage and Family Therapist
- Certified Professional Counselor
- Social Worker
- Registered Nurse
- Advanced Practice Registered Nurse

Where Is One Taken on a Mental Health Crisis Hold?

If your youth has been placed on a hold, they will be taken to a medical hospital for evaluation. Based on the evaluation by a healthcare professional, they may either be released to you or transported to a mental health hospital.

Who May Place a Youth on a Mental Health Crisis Hold?

- Authorized Law Enforcement
- Physician
- Physician Assistant
- Psychologist

How Long Does a Mental Health Crisis Hold Last?

A mental health crisis hold typically lasts for 72 hours. However, the 72-hour period may be extended if a petition is filed with the district court. The petition must include a statement signed by the parent or guardian of the youth that the parent or guardian does not object to the filing of the petition. Parents can choose to extend their youth's mental health hospital stay in if necessary without a court process.

YOUTH MENTAL HEALTH CRISIS HOLD PROCESS

Step 1: Youth is assessed to be in mental health crisis including possible suicide, serious illness, or death.

Step 2: Prior to placing a mental health crisis hold on the youth, a person must attempt to obtain the consent of the parent or guardian.

Step 3: If parent or guardian consent is unable to be obtained, youth is placed on a mental health crisis hold, which can last up to 72 hours for their safety.

Step 4: Hospital must attempt to notify the parent within 8 hours of receiving the youth.

Step 5: Youth receives an examination from a medical professional to ensure there is no medical condition that requires immediate treatment (medical clearance).

Step 6: Youth receives an evaluation from a medical professional to determine that the youth is in a mental health crisis.

Step 7: At anytime during this process the youth may be accepted and transported to a mental health hospital.

What to Expect

What May Happen during the Mental Health Crisis Hold?

Your treatment team will meet with you to discuss the situation and develop a plan moving forward:

- Your youth may be released to you.
- You may choose to have your youth continue treatment, and the hold may be released.
- You may have concerns about releasing the hold—these concerns can be discussed with the treatment team to identify options.

What Can You Expect during the 72 Hours?

While at the medical hospital, your youth's healthcare team (doctors, nurses, social workers, etc.) will determine your youth's medical and mental health needs. The team will also help you and your youth get the appropriate treatment needed. During this time, your youth may receive a medical assessment based on their health needs that may include vital signs, diagnostic tests, labs, etc. Many youth will not need to go into an inpatient mental health hospital, but for those that do, the process can take anywhere from several hours to several days.

There are several factors that affect how long your youth may stay at the hospital while waiting to get into an inpatient mental health hospital:

- Treatment of a critical medical condition or an infectious disease
- Injury
- Assessment of the cause of your youth's crisis which may be due to a mental illness
- Capacity to accommodate and treat
- Insurance

About Patient Rights

In the case of a hospitalization, the hospital will provide you with information on patient rights.

Your Rights Regarding Your Youth's Privacy & Healthcare Information

As the parent or legal guardian, you have the right to:

- Receive information about your youth until the age of 18 or until emancipation
- Control who is able to access your youth's medical records, including treatment plans except for special circumstances.
- Inspect and obtain a copy of your youth's medical records
- Amend the information in those records
- Request a summary of who has been provided your youth's health information
- Request restrictions on who can receive your youth's health information
- Request confidential communication about your youth
- Receive a paper copy of the Notice of Privacy Practices

These rights can be found in the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability act found in federal law here: <https://www.hhs.gov/hipaa/index.html> and in Nevada law in NRS 433.456 to NRS 433.536.

More information can be found at nvbh.org.

What If I'm Not Happy with the Care My Youth Is Receiving?

Have a Concern about Your Youth's Care?

Hospitals strive to provide the best care possible, however there may be times when you are not satisfied with the care your youth is receiving. The following actions can help in these situations:

- If you believe you or your youth's rights have not been observed, discuss your concern with any staff member in person and/or in writing.
- Request to speak to a patient advocate at the hospital, who can help you navigate the hospital's complaint and grievance process. This person serves as an advocate for those admitted to the hospital. The patient advocate is available to both you and your family, assisting in clarifying information, supporting your rights and connecting people to the right resources. The patient advocate can help with grievances and also can pass along compliments regarding your rights and the quality of care and service at the hospital.
- If you have a concern about your rights, you may discuss your concerns with your attorney.

Continuing Care to Meet Youth's Ongoing Needs

Planning for Discharge

What to expect:

- A discharge planner, who could be a social worker, nurse, or other hospital staff, will speak with you within the first 24 hours of your youth's stay to discuss your family's goals, preferences, and needs to begin developing a discharge plan for when your youth leaves the hospital. The provider overseeing your youth's care will also be involved in making sure that this plan is aligned with your family's goals for the care and treatment of your youth.
 - If the discharge plan changes during your youth's stay, you can meet with the discharge planner to reassess and change the plan as needed.
- The following elements will be used to develop your youth's plan and connect you to providers who can support you and your youth after discharge:
 - Your youth's diagnosis
 - Medical issues and past medical history
 - Your Insurance Companies Provider List
 - Ongoing needs after discharge
 - Any risk for needing to be admitted again
 - Your social, family, psychological, employment, food, housing, and transportation needs
 - Communication needs, language barriers, diminished eyesight or hearing, literacy.
 - When the discharge planner meets with you and your youth, they will help you select a provider.
 - You and your youth should be involved with the development of the discharge plan so that you can prepare for next steps after discharge.

Frequently Asked Questions

HOSPITALIZATION

Every effort should be made to provide treatment in the least restrictive setting in your community, however psychiatric hospitalization may be necessary in circumstances where a youth cannot keep themselves safe.

What Does Treatment Consist Of?

1. Treatment starts with an evaluation that includes talking to you and your youth about why they are in the hospital, reviewing any mental health symptoms that they have had before, getting information from people who know them and any records from doctors and hospitals that they have been to in the past. Gathering all of this information will help your doctors have a more clear understanding of your youth's needs.
2. A physical exam and possible lab work to find out if there are medical conditions that may be affecting the way your youth is feeling or acting.
3. If the evaluation shows that mental health is involved in the crisis, and your youth's crisis continues, they may be transferred to a mental health hospital for continuing treatment. Please note: Stabilization in the community should be explored prior to a mental health hospital stay.
4. Your youth's doctors will use the evaluation findings to diagnose any mental health conditions. They will get input from you and your youth to develop a plan for treatment and discharge. While at the hospital, activities may include individual and/or group therapy and taking medications.

Are Families Expected to Be Involved?

Yes! It is extremely important that family members participate in treatment. Family members are essential members of each youth's treatment team and family support assists in healing. It is also very helpful for families to understand and participate in the discharge and aftercare plans in order to have a smooth transition back home and to the community with continued practice of the skills the youth has learned.

What If I Don't Have Insurance to Pay for Treatment?

There are several options for those who do not have insurance, but need mental health treatment. A hospital social worker or staff person will work with you to ensure you get the care you need. The following options are available so you can get treatment:

- Many youth are eligible for Medicaid, which after an often quick enrollment process, will allow you to access private hospitals offering inpatient mental health services.
- If you are ineligible for Medicaid and do not have insurance, Nevada Division of Child and Family Services may be able to assist with payment for a mental health hospital stay.
